

David Moezidis

President, Lifestyle
Solutions

David Moezidis is President of Lifestyle Solutions at Flex, the global manufacturing partner of choice that helps a diverse customer base design and build products to improve the world.

Mr. Moezidis leads the Lifestyle Solutions team which focuses on products that “enable better living.” Product categories include: Appliances, Floor Care, Audio, Consumer Packaging, Micro Mobility and Smart Home solutions. His strategy focuses on enabling premium brands with end-to-end services that support differentiation, IP protection, speed and reliability while remaining cost- competitive and socially responsible. He delivers these services through a global network of market-specific centers of excellence that bundle innovation, design, engineering, supply chain, manufacturing and global logistics.

Mr. Moezidis has spent the last 22 years at Flex in various leadership positions in program management, account management and business development. Most recently he was Senior Vice President of Flex’s Industrial and Energy Solutions group. He has over 30 years of leadership experience in operations, engineering and sales and marketing in the digital imaging, semiconductor capital equipment and electronic manufacturing services industries.

Prior to joining Flex in 1998, he spent four years at KLA Corporation in engineering operations and marketing roles. Before that, Mr. Moezidis worked in customer engineering roles at Eastman Kodak Company.

He holds two bachelor of science degrees in engineering, received a master’s degree in business administration from Pepperdine University and completed the executive management program at Stanford University.
