

Nathan Vince

President, Industrial Business

Nathan Vince is President of Industrial Business at Flex, the global manufacturing partner of choice that helps a diverse customer base design and build products to improve the world.

In his capacity, he manages the Industrial Segment P&L leading teams that are designing, developing, and manufacturing products for the Industrial, Energy and Power markets. Mr. Vince also leads teams supporting strategic customers in Networking and Computing markets.

Mr. Vince joined Flex from Emerson Electric where he was Group Vice President managing Power business units supporting Computing, Storage, Networking, Telecommunications, and Industrial Markets.

He held several executive positions over his career at Emerson residing in Asia, Europe and North America. In 2000, Mr. Vince also launched an early stage startup at Docutek Information Systems which was successfully sold in 2005.

Mr. Vince earned a bachelor's degree in science from San Jose State University, completed Emerson's Leadership program and executive leadership courses at Wharton and Stanford business schools.