

Randy Clark

President, Health
Solutions

Randy Clark is the President of Health Solutions at Flex, the global manufacturing partner of choice that helps a diverse customer base design and build products to improve the world.

Mr. Clark leads the Health Solutions team including product categories: medical equipment, medical devices and consumer health, drug delivery, consumables and disposables, and digital health. In this role, he is responsible for the overall vision, strategy, business planning, development and execution of the Flex Health Solutions business.

In 2022, Mr. Clark joined Flex from the Olympus Corporation of the Americas where he spent more than 23 years in leadership roles, most recently as the President, Board of Directors and Executive Committee. Throughout his career, he has focused on delivering growth and outstanding financial results through inspired, high-performance teams. Mr. Clark is recognized as a change agent with a proven track record for transforming business models to deliver growth in existing markets, new markets and new categories.

Before Olympus, Corp., he worked at Karl Storz Endoscopy America, Boston Scientific, and The Presentation Group in territory manager and branch manager roles.

Mr. Clark holds a master's degree in business administration from Colorado State University, a bachelor of science degree in business administration from Drake University and completed the Advanced Management program at Harvard Business School. Currently, he is also working on a Master of Science organization leadership program from the University of Colorado.
